The Clerk of the Court cannot accept for filing any papers that do not comply with California Rules of Court 2.100 et seq. (CRC 2.118)

To avoid having your papers rejected by the clerk:

Use Judicial Council forms whenever possible

If you print Judicial Council forms from your computer, print them out single-sided. (Don't print double-sided unless you know how to tumble the pages). Judicial Council forms can be found at <http://www.courts.ca.gov/forms.htm>.

If the form you need is not on the Judicial Council website, you will have to make your own form which follows these rules

1. White or unbleached paper – 8 1/2 by 11 inches
2. One-sided paper – only one side of each page may be used
3. 12 pt font (Courier, Times New Roman, Arial or equivalent (Handwritten papers are OK – but write legibly)
4. Line spacing - One and one-half or double-spaced (use pleading paper – either the Judicial Council form MC-20 or create your own using the legal template in your word processor)
5. Margins – at least 1 inch from the left edge and ½ inch from right edge
6. Page Numbers – pages must be numbered consecutively on the bottom (1, 2, 3 ...)
7. Binding – Original and copies must be firmly bound (e.g. stapled) AND the Original must be 2-hole punched at the top.

You will need the Original document, signed in ink (blue is best), and correct number of identical copies (original for the Court, a copy for each party) for the clerk to file.

The Rules are important – Remember - You want the Judge to understand what you have written. Don't make that impossible by submitting papers that are too hard to read because they are upside down, the print is too small or too light, or the pages have fallen out of the file because they are too small or too large and/or not properly fastened.

What is a “domestic violence restraining order”?

It is a court order that can help protect people who have been abused or threatened with abuse.

Can I get a domestic violence restraining order?

You can ask for one if:

- A person has abused you or threatened to abuse you and
- You have one of the following relationships with that person: married, divorced, separated, registered domestic partnership, have a child together, dating or used to date, live together or used to live together*;
- Or you are related within the second degree of affinity or consanguinity. This means: mother or mother-in-law, father or father-in-law, child or stepchild or legally adopted child, grandparent or grandparent-in-law, grandchild or grandchild-in-law, sister or sister-in-law, brother or brother-in-law, stepparent, daughter-in-law or son-in-law. The in-law must be through a current marriage. (See Family Code § 6211).

* You have to regularly reside in the household.

What is abuse?

Abuse means to intentionally or recklessly cause or attempt to cause bodily injury to you; or sexually assault you; or to place you or another person in reasonable fear of imminent serious bodily injury; or to molest, attack, hit, stalk, threaten, batter, harass, telephone, or contact you; or to disturb your peace; or destroy your personal property. Abuse can be spoken, written, or physical. (See Family Code §§ 6203, 6320).

How soon can I get the order?

The judge will decide within one business day whether or not to make any temporary orders. Sometimes the judge decides sooner. Ask the clerk if you should wait or come back later to get copies of the Notice of Court Hearing (Form DV-109) and Temporary Restraining Order (Form DV-110).

What if I don't have the relationship necessary to qualify for a domestic violence restraining order?

There are other kinds of orders you can ask for:

- Civil harassment order (can be used for neighbors, roommates, cousins, uncles, and aunts)
- Dependent adult or elder abuse restraining order
- Workplace violence order

Ask the court clerk for the forms you need for these special kinds of orders, or visit www.courts.ca.gov. You may also want to talk to a lawyer.

How will the restraining order help me?

The court can order the restrained person to:

- Not contact or go near you, your children, other relatives, or others who live with you
- Not have any guns or ammunition
- Move out of your house
- Obey child custody and visitation orders
- Pay child support
- Pay spousal support
- Obey orders about property

How do I ask for a domestic violence restraining order?

The forms are available at any California courthouse or county law library or at: www.courts.ca.gov/forms.

You may get assistance in completing and filing your request from the court's self-help center or a legal aid association.

After completing the forms, give them to the clerk of the court. The clerk will write a hearing date on the Notice of Court Hearing (Form DV-109). If your request for temporary orders is granted, the clerk will also give you a copy of the Temporary Restraining Order (DV-110) signed by a judicial officer.

See Form DV-505-INFO, How Do I Ask for a Temporary Restraining Order? to know which forms you need and for steps to follow after you complete the forms.

How long does the order last?

If the judge makes a temporary order, it will last until the hearing date. At that time, the judge will decide to continue or cancel the order. The restraining order can last up to 5 years. Child custody, visitation, child support, and spousal support orders can last longer than 5 years and they do not end when the restraining order ends.

How much does it cost?

Nothing.

How will the person to be restrained know about the order?

Someone who is at least 18—not you or anyone else to be protected by the order—must “serve” (give) the person to be restrained a copy of the order in person. The sheriff or marshal will do it for free, but you have to ask. For help with service, ask the court clerk for form DV-200-INFO, What Is “Proof of Personal Service”? or visit www.courts.ca.gov.

What if the restrained person doesn't obey the order?

Call the police. The restrained person can be arrested and charged with a crime.

Do I have to go to court?

Yes. Go to court on the date the clerk gives you. If you do not, your order will end.

Do I need a lawyer?

Having a lawyer is always a good idea, especially if you have children, but it is not required. You are not entitled to a free court-appointed lawyer. Ask the court clerk about free and low cost legal services and domestic violence help centers in your county. You can also go to the Family Law Facilitator for help with child support.

Do I need to bring a witness to the court hearing?

No. But it helps to have proof of the abuse. You can bring:

- A written statement from a witness, made under oath
- Witnesses
- Photos
- Medical or police reports
- Damaged property
- Threatening letters, e-mails, or telephone messages

The judge may or may not let a witness speak at the hearing.

So if possible, you should bring their written statement under oath to the hearing. (You can use Form MC-030, Declaration, for this purpose.)

Will I see the restrained person at the court hearing?

If the restrained person comes to the hearing, yes. But that person does not have the right to speak to you. If you are afraid, tell the court officer. Read Get Ready for the Court Hearing (Form DV-520-INFO).

Can I bring someone with me to court?

Yes. You can bring someone to sit with you during the court hearing. But that person cannot speak for you in court. Only you or your lawyer (if you have one) can speak for you.

What if I don't speak English?

When you file your papers, ask the clerk if a court interpreter is available. If the interpreter is not available for your court date, bring someone to interpret for you. Do not ask a child, or anyone to be protected by the order, to interpret for you.

What if I don't have a green card?

You can get a restraining order even if you are not a U.S. citizen. If you are worried about deportation, talk to an immigration lawyer.

What if I am deaf or hard of hearing?

Assistive listening systems, computer-assisted real-time captioning, or sign language interpreter services are available if you ask at least five days before the proceeding. Contact the clerk's office or go to www.courts.ca.gov/forms for Request for Accommodations by Persons With Disabilities and Response (Form MC-410). (Civil Code, § 54.8.)

Need more information?

Ask the court clerk about free or low-cost legal help. For a referral to a local domestic violence or legal assistance program, call the National Domestic Violence Hotline:

1-800-799-7233

TDD: 1-800-787-3224

It's free and private.

They can help you in more than 100 languages.

Can the restrained person and I agree to cancel the order?

No. After the order is issued, only the judge can change or cancel it.

Can I use the restraining order to get divorced or terminate a registered domestic partnership?

No. These forms will not end your marriage or registered domestic partnership. You must file other forms to end your marriage or registered domestic partnership.

Can the order stop the other parent from taking our children away?

If you get a temporary restraining order that includes an order for custody, the parent with custody may not remove the child from California before notice to the other parent and a court hearing on the request to establish or modify custody. Read the order and Form DV-140, Child Custody and Visitation Order, if issued, for any other limits. There are some exceptions. Ask a lawyer.

What if I want to leave the county or state?

The restraining order is valid anywhere in the United States. If you move out of California, contact the local police so they will know about your orders.

1 Use this form as a checklist.

(Look at the numbers at the top of your forms.)

a. For a restraining order you need these forms:

- DV-100 Request for Domestic Violence Restraining Order
- CLETS-001 (Confidential CLETS Information)
- DV-109 Notice of Court Hearing
- DV-110 Temporary Restraining Order

b. If you have children with the person you want protection from, you also need these forms:

- DV-105 Request for Child Custody and Visitation Orders
- DV-140 Child Custody and Visitation Order

c. If you want child support or spousal/partner support, you also need form:

- FL-150* Income and Expense Declaration or
- FL-155* Financial Statement (Simplified)

* Read Which Financial Form—FL-155 or FL-150? (form DV-570) to know which one is right for you.

d. Ask the clerk if your county has special forms or rules.

e. There are other forms you will need later (do not fill them out now):

- DV-120 Response to Request for Domestic Violence Restraining Order
- DV-130 Restraining Order After Hearing (Order of Protection)
- DV-200 Proof of Personal Service

2 Fill out the forms you need and take them to the court clerk. The clerk will give your forms to the judge. The judge will look at them and decide whether to make (“grant”) the temporary orders. Sometimes the judge will want to talk to you. If so, the clerk will tell you.

3 Find out if the judge made the temporary restraining orders. Ask the clerk when to come back to see if the judge signed the order form DV-110. The judge must decide by the next business day. If the judge grants a temporary restraining order, check it carefully to see what the orders are. The judge might not order everything you requested. The court will set a hearing date on form DV-109 whether or not the judge grants any temporary orders.

4 "File" the judge's order. The clerk will keep the original forms for the court and will file-stamp up to three copies for you. If you need more, you may make them yourself.

What to do with your copies:

- Keep one copy with you, always. You may need to show it to the police.
- Keep another copy in a safe place.
- Give a copy to anyone else protected by the order.
- Take copies to places where the restrained party is ordered not to go (school, work, child care, etc.)
- Give a copy to the security officers in your apartment building and workplace.

Restraining orders get entered into CLETS, a statewide computer system that lets police know about your order. The court will send the order to law enforcement or CLETS for you.

5 Know your hearing date: Form DV-109

Look at form DV-109 for the date and time of your hearing. You must go to your hearing to get a permanent order.

The order you have now only lasts for about three weeks. Any orders made on form DV-110 (Temporary Restraining Order) will end on the hearing date.

You have the right to cancel the hearing. Read page 2 of form DV-109 for information.

6 "Serve" the restrained party.

Ask someone you know, a process server, or law enforcement to personally "serve" (give) the restrained party a copy of the notice of hearing, the order, and other papers. You cannot serve the papers yourself. They cannot be sent by mail. The server must:

- Be 18 years of age or older
- Not be listed in item ① or ③ of form DV-100, Request for Domestic Violence Restraining Order.

Law enforcement will serve the orders for free, but you have to ask.

A "process server" is a business you pay to deliver court forms. Look in the Yellow Pages or on the Internet under "Process Serving."

If law enforcement or the process server uses a different proof of service form, make sure the form lists all the forms served.

7 File the Proof of Personal Service (Form DV-200).

The Proof of Personal Service shows the judge and police that the restrained person got a copy of the request for orders. Make three copies of the completed Proof of Personal Service. Take the original and copies to the court clerk as soon as possible before your hearing. The clerk will keep the original and give you back the copies stamped "Filed." Bring a copy to your hearing.

Keep one copy with you and another in a safe place in case you need to show it to the police. Give the other copies out as you did in ④. The court will send your completed Proof of Personal Service to law enforcement or CLETS for you. CLETS is a statewide computer system that lets police know about your order.

If the sheriff serves your order, he or she will send the Proof of Personal Service to the court and to CLETS for you.

Instructions for Law Enforcement

This order is effective when made. It is enforceable by any law enforcement agency that has received the order, is shown a copy of the order, or has verified its existence on the California Law Enforcement Telecommunications System (CLETS). If the law enforcement agency has not received proof of service on the restrained person, and the restrained person was not present at the court hearing, the agency shall advise the restrained person of the terms of the order and then shall enforce it. Violations of this order are subject to criminal penalties.

Arrest Required if Order Is Violated

If an officer has probable cause to believe that the restrained person had notice of the order and has disobeyed the order, the officer must arrest the restrained person. (Pen. Code, §§ 836(c)(1), 13701(b).) A violation of the order may be a violation of Penal Code section 166 or 273.6.

This is a Court Order.

If the Protected Person Contacts the Restrained Person

Even if the protected person invites or consents to contact with the restrained person, the orders remain in effect and must be enforced. The protected person cannot be arrested for inviting or consenting to contact with the restrained person. The orders can be changed only by another court order. (Pen. Code, §13710(b).)

Conflicting Orders—Priorities for Enforcement

If more than one restraining order has been issued protecting the protected person from the restrained person, the orders must be enforced according to the following priorities (see Pen. Code, § 136.2, and Fam. Code, §§ 6383(h), 6405(b)):

1. EPO: If one of the orders is an Emergency Protective Order (form EPO-001), and it is more restrictive than other restraining or protective orders, it has precedence in enforcement over all other orders.
2. No-Contact Order: If there is no EPO, a no-contact order that is included in a restraining or protective order has precedence in enforcement over any other restraining or protective order.
3. Criminal Order: If none of the orders includes a no-contact order, a domestic violence protective order issued in a criminal case takes precedence in enforcement over any conflicting civil court order. Any nonconflicting terms of the civil restraining order remain in effect and enforceable.
4. Family, Juvenile, or Civil Order: If more than one family, juvenile, or other civil restraining or protective order has been issued, the one that was issued last must be enforced.

Child Custody and Visitation

- The custody and visitation orders are on form DV-140, items ③ and ④. They are sometimes also written on additional pages or referenced in DV-140 or other orders that are not part of the restraining order.
- Forms DV-100 and DV-105 are not orders. Do not enforce them.

Certificate of Compliance With VAWA

This temporary protective order meets all “full faith and credit” requirements of the Violence Against Women Act, 18 U.S.C. § 2265 (1994) (VAWA), upon notice of the restrained person. This court has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter; the restrained person has been or will be afforded notice and a timely opportunity to be heard as provided by the laws of this jurisdiction. This order is valid and entitled to enforcement in each jurisdiction throughout the 50 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, all tribal lands, and all U.S. territories, commonwealths, and possessions and shall be enforced as if it were an order of that jurisdiction.

Prepare a Safety Plan

A Safety Plan covers all of the steps you should take to keep you and your children safe from further harm. Consider the following:

- Emergency phone numbers you can call for help:

911

- Places you can go if you must leave home immediately

Family, friends, shelters, _____

- Items you will take with you if you have to leave your home.

(I.e. money, keys, important documents, medications, etc.)

Call the Police. Request an Emergency Protective Order (EPO).

If you are hurt or threatened, call 911. While the law enforcement officer is on the scene, the officer can call a judge to request an Emergency Protective Order (EPO) for you.

An EPO can order the abuser not to contact you, to stay away from you, and to move out of your home immediately until the order expires. An EPO can also award temporary care and control of any minor children you have with the abuser. If the Judge grants the request for an EPO, the officer will give a copy of the EPO to you and the other party, if the other party can be reasonably located. An EPO lasts only 5 business days or 7 calendar days. The EPO will give you enough time to come back to court to complete your Request for Domestic Violence Restraining Order.
